TASTING NOTES

Deep and dark with bramble fruit and cracked black pepper on the front moves into cedar chest and sweet tobacco. A structure of supple tannins and a sustained mouthwatering finish of graham cracker crust and raspberry coulis.

THE VINEYARDS

There is no single vineyard to take center stage in this wine. It is an amalgamation of Sonoma's Dry Creek Valley, lending spice and pepper, St. Helena and Rutherford, adding ripeness and power, finishing with Kelseyville to the north with crisp acidity and freshness to the blend. Start to finish a classic example of easy to drink California Zinfandel.
